Community Update: Rise and Shine
April 23, 2014

Left to Right: Former Volunteer and THP Board Member, Aimée Maier and current Board Member, Jim Reulbach observe a Twazyèm (U.S. 10th grade) class; Marjorie Mombrun, LCS alumna and current principal, and Betsy Bowman, former Volunteer and current Board Member, discuss best practices for providing faculty feedback; Former Volunteer and VP of Community Development, Mary Jo (Scordato) LeGrand, [second from right] accepts a Lenten contribution from Boylan High School in Rockford, IL.

First, Bon Fèt Pak! Happy Easter. Jesus is risen.

Now for the shine part. This week, we have a visiting team of observers representing our board-level Academic Committee. Betsy Bowman and Jim Reulbach are current members of the board, Aimée Maier is a former board member currently serving on the Academic Committee. Betsy and Aimée are also former Volunteers.

Their team, including our principal, Marjorie Mombrun and THP staff, Amanda Gaal and Kaitlyn Guzik, observed over 20 of the professional faculty this week. Their observations are part of an ongoing process of evaluation and professional development for the LCS faculty.

We appreciate the opportunity to shine and to improve even more. The expertise offered by Jim, Aimée and Betsy is a great gift--one we greatly appreciate.

Speaking of gifts, Boylan High School in Rockford, IL continued the Lenten tradition of taking up a collection in support of the Project this year. Local THP representatives, Jimmy Sartino, a long-time friend of THP and teacher at Boylan, and Mary Jo LeGrand, a former Volunteer and VP of Community Development, accepted a check on behalf of the Project at an all-school Mass before Easter. Over the years, thanks largely to the efforts of Jimmy, Boylan has raised over $50,000 on behalf of THP.

Peace, Patrick
